To whom it may concern,

I am writing to recommend David Harrison of ManToolsUte.

David undertook the task of painting the exterior of our freestanding weatherboard house situated on quite a sloping block of land.

He demonstrated high quality workmanship in all aspects of painting including the more detailed aspects of the house architraves and decorative brackets.

He was efficient, courteous, polite and careful negotiating our overgrown garden to access the house. He was also mindful and respectful of our elderly neighbour when he was required to enter her property to access our house.

He provided a very fair quote and has transformed our home. It looks fantastic.
